Jefferson County's HOME NEWSPAPER

ESTABLISHED JUNE 1907 - AN INDEPENDENT COUNTY NEWSPAPER

Vol 46 No. 1

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY., FRIDAY, MAY 16, 1952

40 YEARS AGO

Organization of the South Jefferson County Commercial Club occupied the first column of the first page of the May 16, 1912 issue of The Jeffersonian. I. P. Moreman, secretary, reported the club was "inaugurated by much exchange of windy ideas." The initial meeting was held at the store of Ben K. Stewart and Dudley S. Reynolds was temporary chairman. Completion of the Salt River Bridge and establishment of a "Lincoln Way" to Elizabethtown were advocated by the club.

The Buechel Commercial Club announced a prize corn contest. The farmer growing the best 10 ears of the grain was to receive a $100 prize. "Fanelli Brothers" was designated as the name of the Jeffersontown Baseball Club. Frank Fanelli, personally, donated the uniforms at a cost of $80. Bart Roenke was team manager. Other members included Walter Jones, Walter Harris, Edwin D. Ben Stivers, John Finn, and Jack Baker.

H. C. Knauer wrote a letter to the editor of The Jeffersonian, apparently addressed to those who have been scared of the expense of wiring their houses for electricity. The letter: "You may state in your paper that I shall be pleased to furnish wire and do the work of wiring houses in Jeffersontown for $1.75 per light. Work concealed and guaranteed to be first class and stand inspection."

Mrs. Ruth Ann Newton, 67, who with her husband, John Newton, lived on the Clyde Tucker farm near Jeffersontown, died after a year's illness. The Jeffersontown Commercial Club was seeking better service on the interurban line between Louisville and Jeffersontown.

County Democratic was planning an early meeting to select delegates to the state convention in preparation for the 1952 National convention in Baltimore to nominate a Democratic candidate for the presidency.

TEN YEARS AGO
The war - directly and indirectly - dominated the news columns of The Jeffersonian 10 years ago this week.

Recent additions to the armed services from Jefferson County included the following: Joseph L. Franklin, son of Mrs. W. M. Franklin, Buechel, Navy; Albert Schaefer, son of Mrs. W. Conrad Schaefer, Fegenbush Lane, and Roger Thompson, Buechel Plaza, Army; Robert S. Brown, Jr., just turned 18, whose parents lived on Hillside Drive, Navy; Charles E. Stowers, assigned to the Pensacola Naval Base, was on leave visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Stowers, Rockford Lane.

Pvt. Charles F. "Jimmy" Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fox, Fern Creek, was injured in a

GOOD HEALTH

1. DO VETERINARY AIDS
LEAD TO HUMAN HEALTH?

2. HOW SERIOUS
IS TETANUS?

3. DOES GLAUCOMA
LEAD TO BLINDNESS?

Answer to Question No. 1:
Over 90 per cent of the 16,000 doctors of veterinary medicine in the United States spend most of their time vaccinating food-producing stock such as cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry, inspecting meat and milk, and carrying on activities to control such diseases as tuberculosis and brucellosis that are transmitted from animals to men. Healthy animals are necessary also to supply insulin, liver extract, adrenalin, cortisone, ACTH and other products important to the modern treatment of disease.

Answer to Question No. 2:
It is a disease causing severe muscular spasm and can result in death. When it involves the muscles of the jaw, it is known as "lockjaw." Puncture type wounds made by rusty nails and other such objects are the most frequent portals of entry for the tetanus bacillus which is the direct cause of the disease. The disease may be prevented if tetanus antitoxin is administered promptly.

Answer to Question No. 3:
Glaucoma is a disease of the eye diagnosed by too much fluid in the eyeball and increased tension. The actual cause is unknown. Glaucoma may lead to blindness, but if treated early and persistently, it can be held in check over many years. It is primarily a disease of older people.

GOOD HEALTH

1. DO VETERINARY AIDS
LEAD TO HUMAN HEALTH?

2. HOW SERIOUS
IS TETANUS?

3. DOES GLAUCOMA
LEAD TO BLINDNESS?

Answer to Question No. 1:
Over 90 per cent of the 16,000 doctors of veterinary medicine in the United States spend most of their time vaccinating food-producing stock such as cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry, inspecting meat and milk, and carrying on activities to control such diseases as tuberculosis and brucellosis that are transmitted from animals to men. Healthy animals are necessary also to supply insulin, liver extract, adrenalin, cortisone, ACTH and other products important to the modern treatment of disease.

Answer to Question No. 2:
It is a disease causing severe muscular spasm and can result in death. When it involves the muscles of the jaw, it is known as "lockjaw." Puncture type wounds made by rusty nails and other such objects are the most frequent portals of entry for the tetanus bacillus which is the direct cause of the disease. The disease may be prevented if tetanus antitoxin is administered promptly.

Answer to Question No. 3:
Glaucoma is a disease of the eye diagnosed by too much fluid in the eyeball and increased tension. The actual cause is unknown. Glaucoma may lead to blindness, but if treated early and persistently, it can be held in check over many years. It is primarily a disease of older people.

Stretch Your Farm Labor Supply
It will be difficult to reach farm production goals with available labor supply. Some farmers have already felt the labor squeeze. Regardless of whether or not there is an all-out war, defense spending is likely to continue heavy. This means the farm labor situation won't be getting any better.

More jobs in industry will create a bigger demand for farm products. Yet, the food needed can be produced through good planning, efficient use of physical facilities and the "know-how" and hard work of the American Farmer. Planning is the first step toward saving time. Take time to get all the workers on the farm together and plan how jobs can be done in less time. Think each job through — break what has to be done down into steps and then try to figure out improved methods of doing the job quicker, yet just as effectively.

Some of the "time-savers" poultry and livestock producers will want to consider using are: automatic waterers, automatic or self-feeders, and the location of feed storage bins near poultry and livestock quarters. Arrange to cut down on all of the back-breaking and time-consuming jobs possible.

The time was never better than now to produce more from the same acreage or the same number of livestock and poultry. Keep the best breeding stock possible, buy the best chicks, give them the right kind of management, control insects and diseases, and feed ample quantities of good ration.

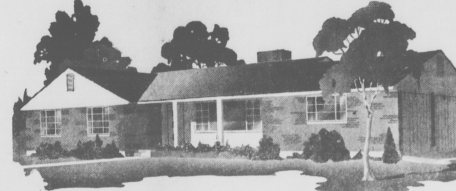

For greater profits, even with a short labor supply, operate efficiently and produce more from what you have.

MODERN RANCH HOUSE YOU WILL LIKE

HOUSE PLAN No. 34

If you like the long, rambling ranch type house you will really "take to" this Farm and Ranch Plan No. 5034—it gives you casual ranch house appearance in a very compactly arranged home.

The casement windows in the attractive kitchen will let in plenty of Old Sol's rays to both the work area and the eating space. This eating space is large enough for serving the family meals in comfort. Cabinet space is plentiful, and the arrangement of sink, range, and refrigerator will require a minimum of housewife mileage in meal preparation. Off the kitchen the utility room will provide space for laundry equipment and possibly a freezer chest. Field hands can get rid of sweat and grime in the shower off the utility room before entering the rest of the house.

The arrangement of the bath, utility room, and kitchen in one single area permits a rather simplified plumbing system which will appreciably reduce the cost for materials and labor.

The living-dining area is most spacious than that found in most homes of this size. The large picture window and casement opening on each side will provide an abundance of light and plenty of ventilation.

All three bedrooms have wall space convenient for desirable furniture arrangement. The closets are unusually large, designed with sliding doors to save valuable floor and wall space. In addition, there is linen storage in both the bathroom and hall.

We suggest that this house be built of brick or masonry veneer with a concrete slab foundation and metal casement windows and cement asbestos shingle roof. The gables and front section under the porch should be of painted wood to give the most eye-pleasing effect.

You can obtain blueprints for this, The Jeffersonian Farm and Ranch House Plan No. 5034 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, Farm and Ranch Southern Agriculturalist, Dept. E-64, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 5034. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

Experiment Station Field Day May 23

Both crops and livestock will be seen and discussed at the spring field day at the Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky at Lexington May 23.

Of interest in the crops research work are programs in breeding for the improvement of small grains, grasses and legumes, and the testing of varieties of wheat, barley, oats, alfalfa, birdsfoot trefoil, white clover, crimson clover, tall fescue, orchard grass, bluegrass, bromegrass, tall oatgrass and timothy.

Also to be discussed will be the seed production of certain of these crops, and weed control.

Farrowing Crate Helps Save Pigs

Fewer pigs are crushed when sows farrow in crates than when they farrow in ordinary pens equipped with guard rails, according to a test made at the University of Kentucky Experiment Station at Lexington.

Only 2.2 percent of the pigs farrowed by sows in crates were crushed as compared to 8.1 percent crushed by sows in ordinary pens.

In addition to saving pigs, sows were less nervous and required less attention when they farrowed in crates. The sows suffered no discomfort or injuries in the crates.

It was the opinion of the experimenters that sows can be managed during the farrowing season more satisfactorily and with less time and attention by using crates.

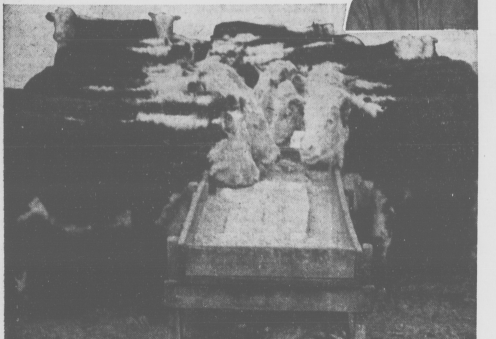

Farmers interested in using farrowing crates should ask a county agent for a copy of Bulletin 583.

"My steers on Purina and pasture topped the market . . . made nice profit"
... Says Grover Jackson, Magnolia, Kentucky

Mr. Jackson and Some of His Market Toppers

"On the first of last June I put 80 steers on pasture and fed them a daily ration of 10 pounds of ear corn and 1 1/4 pounds of Purina Steer Fatena per head," says Mr. Jackson. "They averaged 800 pounds on June 1, and, when weighed over the scales in Louisville on October 15, they averaged 1,125 pounds. They topped the market at $35, without a single one being cut out!"

Mr. Jackson, figuring ear corn at $2.50 a hundred, got those gains for only 12 cents a pound, aside from pasture.

This is Mr. Jackson's second year on the Purina pasture, not only with his steers but with other cattle. For example, he feeds his 115 brood cows and heifers Korean hay, silage and Purina Range Checkers.

If you are interested in making more from your cattle, find out what the Purina Program can do for you. Get full details and free literature from any Purina Dealer listed below. See your friendly Purina Dealer . . . today.

MAKE BEEF FAST . . . AND AT LOW COST

Supplement grain, hay and pasture with Purina Steer Fatena. A survey shows that many cattle feeders get 100 pounds of gain from only 75 pounds of Steer Fatena and 12.5 bushels of corn. Cattle like Steer Fatena. They stay right up at the bunk eating, drinking lots of water and putting on pounds.

BE MARKET WISE

By Miriam Kelley
Field Agent in Marketing and Consumer Information College of Agriculture and Home Economics University of Kentucky U.S.D.A. Co-operating.

Greens from the garden — the plentiful season comes. To follow will be the crops from nearby market gardeners' fields, and berries and fruits in season.

It's the time to hoard — if by hoarding you pick from the plentiful crops and store for future use. Now or soon you'll have sweet peas, spinach, mustard, and for greens — capture their peak of good eating for later by storing by freezing or canning. A few packages of asparagus, peas of the big sweet green varieties should be on your soon-to-prepare list.

To prepare asparagus for freezing, select young tender stalks. Wash well and cut into desired lengths. Scald in boiling water 2 to 4 minutes. There's less danger of overcooking or breaking the tender tips if asparagus is tied in easy-to-handle bundles and scalded standing tips up.

Chill in cold running water or ice water, drain, pack into containers. Seal and freeze. It requires from 1 to 1 1/2 pounds asparagus to make 1 pint package for freezing.

Greens take similar treatment — but the yield will vary with the kind. Leaves may be left whole or chopped, depending on your preference. Young tender leaves give the best product — wash well, and heat in boiling water for 1 to 2 minutes. Two minutes will be needed for beet greens, kale, chard, mustard, and turnip greens; less time for tender spinach leaves. Cool promptly in cold water and drain. Pack greens into containers leaving 1/2 inch head space, seal and freeze.

Baby beets, please, for just as the tiny beets have best flavor for eating now, they also make the best frozen or canned product. Cook the beets in boiling water 25 to 30 minutes or until fork tender, chill and remove the peel. Slice or cube and pack into containers leaving 1/2 inch head-space. Seal and freeze.

Select containers for freezing that provide moisture — vapor proof protection and as you check the cost, consider if they will be reusable or not. They should be easy to seal, economical in their use of freezer space — easy to stack with no waste space between. Glass, metal, and rigid plastic are examples of moisture-vapor-proof packaging materials; most bags, sheets, and waxed cartons made for freezing are moisture — vapor — resistant. Not suitable to use are ordinary waxed papers, household aluminum foil.

Cartons for cottage cheese and ice cream are unsuitable only if liners of special freezer material are used. In spite of the breaking danger, glass containers specially constructed for freezing have been found most satisfactory as containers for many uses.

More helps you'll find as you get into your preparing foods for freezing season if you have a copy of the University of Kentucky Freezer bulletin, No. 398. Send for your free copy to Room 437 Federal Building, Louisville, Ky.

Road Rights-of-Way Cost County $27,000

Jefferson County Fiscal Court Wednesday voted to purchase tracks of land needed for high-way rights-of-way. The amount involved is $27,000.

Reynolds Haffey is to receive $16,500 for a 100-foot strip through his dairy farm for the re-located Jefferson-Fisher-ville Road. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Reinhardt agreed to accept $10,500 for a 100-foot strip through the Henry Watterson Expressway, south of Louisville.

Both settlements were reached after condemnation suits had been filed by the county.

Organization of a volunteer fire department for the Auburn-Fairdale section is being sought. Daniel B. Boone, director of the county fire program, is working to the court. The area is the last section of the county to be without such protection.

THE BRIDE'S CAKE

The Bride of the Year baked her own wedding cake. She is now Mrs. Dorothy Rowland, 18-year-old 4-H member, who decided that no one else could do as well with the cake of her life. She sold six wedding cakes for $10 each, and the following recipe was used:

WEDDING CAKE

3 1/2 cups sifted self-rising flour (13 cups, about 10 pounds)
2 1/2 cups sugar (9 cups or 4 1/2 pounds)
2 1/2 cups vegetable shortening (3 cups or 1 1/2 pounds)
1 1/2 cups sweet milk (1 1/2 quarts)
2 teaspoons almond extract (1 tablespoon)
6 egg whites (4 cups), unbeaten (2 dozen)

Let milk and eggs stand at room temperature at least 2 hours before mixing.

Line bottom of pans smoothly with waxed paper.

Plan to make the above recipe four times. Amounts in parentheses following 2 1/2 cups indicate total amounts needed.

1. Cream 2 1/2 cups of each size, 12 inch, 10 inch and 8 inch. (Better to use 12 inch layer cake pan.)

One recipe makes one 12-inch layer or one 10-inch and one 8-inch layer. (Place 1/2 of batter in the 8-inch remaining 1/2 in the 10-inch pan.)

Mixing method: Sift together the flour and sugar. Add shortening and a little over half of the milk mixed with the vanilla. Beat on medium speed for two minutes on medium speed of an electric mixer. Beat by hand. Add remaining milk and the unbeaten egg whites and beat another two minutes. Pour into pans which have been lined with waxed paper and bake in a moderate oven, 350° F. The 8-inch layers require approximately 45 minutes; the 10-inch layers, 30 minutes and the 12-inch layers, 15 minutes to bake.

BUTTER CREAM FROSTING
1 lb. butter
4 lbs. sugar, sifted
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons vanilla
1 egg white
1 cup cream (about)

Cream butter until soft; add sifted sugar gradually, creaming thoroughly. Add salt and flavoring. Gradually add cream, using just enough to make a good consistency to spread. Spread between layers and on top and sides of wedding cake.

CINDERELLA TOWN

$1.5 Million Gift Brings Strife to Town

PERRYPOPOLIS, Pa.—The people of Perryopolis, population 1,500, are in a state of confusion over a $1.5 million gift which they could again have the small town friends of the town.

The money was bequeathed to the little town by Mary Fuller Fraser. Her will said: "The public, charitable, literary or educational purposes for which the money shall be used shall be selected by my executors, or the survivors of them, after consultation with the town officials of the town of Perryopolis."

Thrilled by Gift

At first the community was thrilled over the gift. As described by the community and financed by the gift. Its report was 40 percent of the town's assets and 40 percent of the town's assets.

After that the fight really began. A planning association was organized by the community and financed by the gift. Its report was 40 percent of the town's assets and 40 percent of the town's assets.

But a technically developed. The will said "town officials" but the community actually elected no officials of its own besides the three trustees chosen every two years in rotation for six years term. The question developed they were left with the town officials. This question blasted the community into two camps—those who sided with the trustees and those who favored separating the town from the township and becoming a borough.

And while the community fight, six men and women have brought suit as alleged first cousins of Mary Fuller Fraser. All this has spelled nothing but trouble for Perryopolis, turning friend against friend, and splitting the town into bitter factions.

Perryopolis has two main streets—Liberty and Independence—which cross at the center of town to form Washington circle. Smaller streets radiate from this circle like the spokes of a wheel. Clustered around the circle are the town's principal stores. These are the main sources of employment for the town's population, but they absorb little more than the families of their owners.

The only industry today is two small factories and a sawmill. Most workers have to travel 15, 20 or 25 miles to find employment at the neighboring mines and mills.

Community Seeks Funds To Restore Old Church

SAG HARBOR, L.I.—Services are being held in the Old Whaling Presbyterian Church in Sag Harbor after a year's drive for $30,000 to make the building safe for service.

Another $50,000 is still needed, however, to restore its steeples, once a mainstay of the town.

Built in 1842, when Sag Harbor was a leading Atlantic port and whaling ships abounded, the church lost its 120-foot steeple in the 1938 hurricane. In November, 1950, a bad gale ravaged the church, shattering its suspended ceiling of "egg and dot frosting" design sagged dangerously and the building was condemned.

A campaign was started for funds by May, 1951, more than $15,000 had been received and the trustees ordered the reconsecrating of the church as an example of one of the Four Freedoms.

Money for the reconsecrating came from all over the country.

Most of us have had the experience of running up against a stone wall," encountering a problem which seems impossible to solve. Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 199), "The devotion of thought to honest achievement makes the achievement possible."

Note the words "devotion of thought" to honest achievement. The words "devotion of thought" to honest achievement makes the achievement possible.

When we devote our thought to anything, we work patiently, consistently, and unwaveringly toward the goal. And when our goal is the spiritual understanding which will solve the problem and heal the situation, we give up our testimony and accept spiritual facts.

An apostle writes (James 1:2-8), "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all liberally and without reproach. But let him ask in faith, without doubting, for the one who doubts is like the wind-driven wave, tossed and driven by the waves. For he will not be a stable man, nor will he be able to do anything."
